ROAD/EASEMENT ABANDONMENT INFORMATION SHEET

General Information

This information sheet explains how your application requesting the abandonment of a County street or easement will be processed, what information you must submit, and what fees you must pay. The application is for the abandonment of street right-of-way and easements (e.g. public utility, drainage) that have been dedicated to Yolo County or for which the County has an interest.

Review and Approval Authority

Street right-of-ways and public easements can be abandoned only by action of the Yolo County Board of Supervisors. Before the Board acts, the Yolo County Planning Commission must consider the proposed abandonment and make a finding regarding the consistency of the proposed abandonment with the Yolo County General Plan and any other pertinent plans. Generally, the Board of Supervisors must make special findings at a publicly noticed public hearing regarding the past, present, and future prospective use of the right-of-way or easement, and adopt an environmental clearance for the action. For public utility easements, approval by Special Districts and utility companies is also required prior to abandonment.

How Your Application Will Be Processed

The steps involved in reviewing your abandonment application are summarized below:

- Application should be submitted to the Planning Division. Within thirty days after submittal of the application, information, and fee, staff will review the submittal for completeness. If the submittal is complete, the application is formally accepted for processing and continues through the review process. If the application is incomplete and additional information or clarification is required, you will be notified. Until your application is deemed complete, it will not proceed through the process.
- 2. For public utility abandonments, or road right-of-way abandonments that contain utility facilities, County staff recommend that the applicant contact all special districts and public utilities that have an interest in the easement/right-of-way and obtain a letter from them stating that they do not object to the abandonment. Submitting these letters with your application will expedite the processing of your application.
- 3. After the application is complete, Planning Division staff will route the submittal to County departments and other agencies for review and comments. Following receipt of comments, staff will analyze comments and the proposed abandonment and prepare a staff report that includes a staff recommendation on the approval or denial of the abandonment and any recommended Conditions of Approval for consideration by the Planning Commission. Conditions of approval may involve requiring the applicant to provide legal descriptions prepared by a licensed land surveyor, removal of traffic control devices, installing fences, etc. The Planning Commission also recommends adopts the appropriate environmental determination as required by CEQA.
- 4. Following action by the Planning Commission, the Public Works Division prepares a Board Letter for the Board of Supervisors meeting, including a staff recommendation on the approval or denial of the abandonment, recommended Conditions of Approval, recommended level of environmental determination, and a resolution as approved by County Counsel. The Public Works Division coordinates the public postings and publishes notices advising the public of the public hearing, as required by California Streets and Highways Code ∮ 8320. The abandonment will then be considered by the Board of Supervisors.
- 5. A the Board meeting, the Board considers input from any interested party at the public hearing, all written comments, and takes action to approve, conditionally approve, or deny the application.
- 6. If the Board approves the abandonment, a Resolution of Abandonment is recorded with the County Recorder, at which point the abandonment in complete.
